DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-5, 7-8, 10-21, 24-25, drawn to a photoelectric conversion element;

Group II, claim(s) 6, 9, and 22-23 drawn to a method of manufacturing a photoelectric conversion element.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Where the group of inventions is claimed in one and the same international application, the requirement for unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression “special technical features” shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions considered as a whole , makes over the prior art. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, although they share the special technical feature, this special technical feature does not define a contribution over the prior art for the following reasons: “a photoelectric conversion element having a housing and a stacked body” is the special technical feature linking Group I and Group II. “a photoelectric conversion element having a housing and a stacked body” is known in the art, such as JP 2002-203612. Accordingly, the special technical feature does not provide a contribution over the prior art. Therefore the restriction is appropriate.

3. If applicants elect Group I, applicants are further required to elect the following species:

Species A: the portion of the casing contacting the working electrode as cited in the last paragraph on page 5 (appears to be claim 1);

Species B: the housing body is sealed suing the working electrode as cited in the for the forth paragraph on page 10 (appears to be claim 7);

Species C: the casing comprising a back plate a frame body having a window frame portion and the stack body having a current collecting wiring portion as cited in the last paragraph on page 12 (appears to be claim 10);

Species D: the casing comprising a frame body and a lid body as cited in the fifth paragraph on page 13 (appears to be claim 14);

Species E: the casing comprising a main body and a lid body which is detachable secured to the main body as cited in the second paragraph on page 14 (appears to be claim 18);

Art Unit: 1795

Species F: the casing being made of a main body and the working electrode being detachably secured to the main body as cited in the third paragraph on page 14 (appears to be claim 20);

The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (species A or B or C or D or E or F) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, there appears to no generic claim.

4. If applicants elect Group II, applicants are further required to elect the following species:

Species G: the method of manufacturing a photoelectric element having a lid body as cited in the last paragraph on page 8 (appears to be claim 6);

Species H: the method of manufacturing a photoelectric element as cited in the for the last paragraph on page 9 (appears to be claim 9);

The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (species G or H) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, there appears to no generic claim.

5. A telephone call was made to Howard Bernstein on 1/28/2010 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Xiuyu Tai whose telephone number is 571-270-1855.

The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday, 7:30 AM - 5:00 PM.
